The wellspring of your flames

The way the flames dance in your new fireplace will depend in large part on the burner bed, also known as the 'fire bed'; the wellspring of ultimate warmth and comfort in your home. The perfect combination of technology and design.

Apart from determining the movement of the flame, the burner bed also sets the tone for the rest of the fireplace. It is the foundation of your fireplace's design. Are you one for sleek, clean looks, or do you prefer the romance of wooden logs? Anything is possible!

Anything for your personal style.
Ultimate customization.

PURE AUTHENTICITY

Wooden logs

Wood suggests warmth and comfort, even when it's not yet been lit. And then once you do light the fire, an atmosphere of nostalgia and romance is created. Pure authenticity! You can never go wrong with a burner bed made of wooden logs.

ITALIAN CLASS

Carrara stones

Pure, unadorned elegance. Straight from the marble quarries of Carrara, Italy. Suitable for a wide range of decors, from sleek and minimalist to traditional.

BACK TO BASICS

Basalt

Basalt and fire are inextricably linked. Basalt is essentially solidified lava, so a burner bed made of basalt takes you back to the origins of the fire. A beautiful material to help you create your dream decor.

NATURAL BEAUTY

Pebbles

Natural beauty to give your fireplace a rustic personality. Play around with natural elements to create the ultimate country feel – for those who like a more rugged look.
